

DOGS past & present 1st International Conference

First Announcement and Call for Papers

The Italian Association for Ethnoarchaeology (AIE)
Is pleased to announce the

1st International Conference

DOGS - PAST AND PRESENT -

An interdisciplinary perspective

14th-16th November, 2018

Rome, National Research Council (CNR)

Piazzale Aldo Moro 7

Dogs are a crucial partner in humankind.

When, where, how and why were dogs domesticated?

What is their story?

What is their role in traditional and non-traditional societies today?

Dog domestication and its success in prehistory and the role of dogs in the history of humankind are complex themes, which are currently being studied and discussed by scholars of various disciplines. In the last few years, data and hypotheses have progressively increased, sometimes controversially, in various fields of investigation. However, a lack of exchange between scholars of different backgrounds has hampered a real advance in the study of the connections between humans and dogs in history until the present day.

Associazione Italiana di Etnoarcheologia – Onlus

Via dei Cappellari, 50 – Roma (Italy)
www.ethnoarchaeology.net

DOGS past & present

1st International Conference

This conference aims to create a platform for the exchange of practical and theoretical approaches for scholars from different fields of research (genetics, archaeozoology, archaeology, ethnoarchaeology, ethnography, anthropology, folklore and ethnomusicology) in order to reach a real interdisciplinary perspective on the history of dogs which will be pivotal for the future of research in this field.

You can participate with:

- Oral Communication
- Poster
- Multimedia (video)

Abstracts 500-600 words in English or French, keywords and optional references and 1 picture.

Deadline for proposals is extended to midnight on 20 June 2018.

Registration form: <https://goo.gl/forms/VHcTemqLYnkZXRgC2>

For further details www.ethnoarchaeology.net

Organizers:

Francesca Lugli (AIE), Ivana Fiore (AIE - Collab. Lab. Bioarcheologia, MUCIV, Roma), Paolo Francalacci (Department of Biomedical Sciences, University of Sassari)

Stefano Biagetti (University Pompeu Fabra, CaSES Research Group, Barcelona), Andrei Novikov (Russian Academy of Science SB RAS, Institute of Archaeology and Ethnography, Novosibirsk), Daria Sanna (Department of Biomedical Sciences, University of Sassari), Galina Sychenko (AIE)

Associazione Italiana di Etnoarcheologia – Onlus

Via dei Cappellari, 50 – Roma (Italy)
www.ethnoarchaeology.net